Telephone Strike Is Postponed

Mediator Asked Delay to Permit Time For Discussion

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7—(AP)—The CIO-Communications Workers today postponed until Feb. 24 a nationwide telephone strike it had called for tomorrow at 6 a.m.

Mediation Director Cyrus S. Ching had asked for the postponement to permit more time for conciliators to try to settle the dispute.

Union President Joseph A. Birne of the union said the nine-man executive board had voted to postpone the strike in the hope a settlement could be brought about in the meantime.

Along with asking a postponement of the strike call, Ching called for "intensified bargaining."

Birne said a postponement order was sent to the unions whose 100,000 workers were to talk out tomorrow in the first wave of strikes aimed at shutting down the entire Bell telephone system.

New Deadline

The new strike deadline is 6 a.m., local time, on Friday, Feb. 24.

Ching based his plea for a postponement on the public interest.

Birne said:

"In accordance with Mr. Ching's request for more time to bring about a peaceable solution to the telephone wage dispute, CWA-CIO is postponing its strike."

"Mr. Ching, through his personal intervention and his grave concern for the interests of the public may be successful in getting the Bell system to do some real collectively bargaining."

"We, too, have grave concern for the interests of the public. We think we have demonstrated that in these months of fruitless bargaining."

"We want to avoid a strike."

A.T. & T. Statesman

An A.T. & T. spokesman made the following statement:

"We are glad to hear that there will be no strike tomorrow."

"However, the strike threat of the national union leaders made weeks before we began bargaining meetings, has had a very harmful effect on our attempts to engage in real collective bargaining."

A negotiations session between the union's division 10 and the A.T. & T. long lines department in New York was postponed from 10 a.m. to noon.

The companies are the Western Electric, Pacific, Southwestern, and Mountain States Bell Telephone companies. A strike vote is being taken among the New Jersey workers also, but it will not be completed before Feb. 15.

Union Threat

The union, headed by Joseph A. Birne, a vice-president of the CIO, also had threatened to send another 200,000 workers out on strike after March 1. Their contracts would not permit them to join in the first walkout.

In his appeal for more time, Ching gravely warned that the consequences of a telephone strike may not be limited to a temporary inconvenience to the public.

"Many of the freedoms which both sides presently enjoy, and are enjoyed by employers and unions, generally, will be endangered by a demonstration of an absence of sound and stable management-labor relations in the critical communications industry," he said.

Hope for Benefits

This appeared to be a hint at the possibility of congressional legislation aimed at the telephone industry and perhaps others.

The conciliators' hope that a strike postponement would be beneficial was not shared by Ernest Weaver, CWA official who has been negotiating with Western Electric in New York.

"As far as we're concerned," Weaver said, "I feel from our experience with the company that the mediation service would be unsuccessful in bringing about a settlement in two weeks."

Robbers Steal Load of Black Pepper

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 7—(AP)—A truckload of black pepper was the loot in a robbery early today of the James H. Forbes Tea & Coffee Co. The pepper was in 1½- and 4-ounce containers.

For the second time in three months, thieves broke into the company's garage, loaded with merchandise a one-ton truck owned by the firm and drove away.

The emptied truck was found about three blocks from where a truck was abandoned after the first theft, Dec. 22. Then 1,000 pounds of coffee were taken.

Wilson Hicks Retires As Executive Editor Of Life

Wilson Hicks, 53, formerly of Sedalia and well known newspaper and magazine man, has retired from his position as executive editor of Life Magazine, according to word received by his sisters, Miss Ruby and Mayte Hicks, 1118 West Seventh street.

Hicks has been with the Life magazine for the past thirteen years with offices in New York, starting there in 1937.

The journalistic career of Mr. Hicks started with the Sedalia Capital when it was located at Second street and Lamine avenue in the building that is now the Terry Hotel.

Optimist Club Hears Trend of Government

James T. Blair, Jr., Lieut. Governor of State is Speaker

James T. Blair, Jr., Lieutenant Governor of Missouri, related trends of the government to Sedalia Optimist Club members and their guests of about 40 persons, today at noon in the Ambassador Room of the Bothwell hotel.

The speaker, who was introduced by John C. McCloskey, assured his audience before he began speaking that his talk would be on the serious side and that it would be non-political.

"Government, as we conceive it, is the creation of a civilized people, organized to bring about the orderly functioning of each interest in our social structure for the benefit of the whole. The role of the government is to lay down the rules of the game, not to play it," the speaker said.

He said, "Most people, I am sure, are concerned with the high cost of government, and rightfully so. They are making a determined effort to reduce taxes, yet there is only one way this can be done and that is to look upon your government as a big corporation of which you are a shareholder—you should have a very definite interest. It must be a personal matter. We need a feeling of proprietorship. Members of the House and Senate are a fine group and will usually follow your wishes if you will tell them what they are," Mr. Blair said.

Need Something Else

He declared, "We need something else too. Somewhere, somehow, we must arrive at a clearer understanding of the true purpose

May Postpone Selection of Academy Site

Duke Shoop, Washington correspondent for the Kansas City Star, is of the opinion the Air Force Academy site will not be selected by Congress until after the November election, according to an article which appeared in the Kansas City Times this morning. It states as follows:

"WASHINGTON, Feb. 7—Congress will sidestep the problem of selecting a site for an air force academy until after the November congressional elections.

"Government, as we conceive it, is the creation of a civilized people, organized to bring about the orderly functioning of each interest in our social structure for the benefit of the whole. The role of the government is to lay down the rules of the game, not to play it," the speaker said.

He said, "Most people, I am sure, are concerned with the high cost of government, and rightfully so. They are making a determined effort to reduce taxes, yet there is only one way this can be done and that is to look upon your government as a big corporation of which you are a shareholder—you should have a very definite interest. It must be a personal matter. We need a feeling of proprietorship. Members of the House and Senate are a fine group and will usually follow your wishes if you will tell them what they are," Mr. Blair said.

One hundred and ninety-five sites in thirty-four states have been proposed for the academy.

Teams of air officers are now engaged in surveying the proposed locations. About forty places have been visited, including seven in Kansas and several in Missouri.

"Texas, already the home of the air force's big Randolph and Kelly fields, is making strong bid for the air force academy.

Texas has many representatives in Congress who have seniority

Old Fashioned Box Supper Sure Way to Get Crowd Out

By Arthur Edson

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7—(AP)—The Republicans apparently have hit on a sure-fire way to get out a crowd for a political rally. All you do is:

Pull on an old fashioned box supper, featuring three pieces of fried chicken, some potato salad, coffee and a roll wearing small American flag. The whole thing

Hire a nationally known entertainment group, such as Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians, and get a Hollywood figure, such as George Murphy, to master the ceremonies and lead the yell.

Then line up an all-star speaking cast, including senators Taft (Ohio), Wherry (Nebr.), Caphart (Ind.), Knowland (Calif.), Mundt (SD), Brewster (Me.), Tobe (NH), Cain (Wash.) and Rep. Joe Martin (Mass.), the House minority leader.

It worked. That's what the GOP did last night, and it worked.

The box supper was the first of a nationwide program of box suppers. It's all a part of a whipping-up-enthusiasm campaign and the annual tribute to the first Republican president, Abraham Lincoln.

Old Abe never had it so good. The lure of entertainment, chicken and speech-making brought 11,000 (a metropolitan police estimate to Uline Arena, a spot which, holds 6,500 comfortably.

More than 2,000 sat on the floor, midst the remains of the fried chicken.

A Different Touch

Even the oratory, which was broadcast nationally, had a somewhat different touch. Instead of the customary one or two big oratorical guns, the GOP split it 20 ways, with each speaker limited to approximately 45 seconds.

I won't go into details, but this is the gist of what they said: The Republicans are redhot for Republicans, and they don't give a hoot for a certain other party.

All seemed unusually harmonious, and I ran into only one jarring note. Two characters got to arguing over the same chair, and one snarled: "Who do you think you are, President T—?"

Fortunately, Murphy chose this time to sing, "God Bless America," and peace was restored.

The annual tribute to the first Re-

New Site Is Proposed For Airport Here

Last Of Judgment Funding Bonds Paid And Burned

A proposed new site for the Sedalia Municipal Airport, east of Sedalia, just beyond the underpass, on the north side of the road, and has a northeast to southwest runway has been approved by the CAA, according to Emery Ellsworth, in a report to the City Council at a regular meeting, Monday night. Ellsworth, third ward alderman, then recommended the city advertise for bids for the present airport land, near Dresden, that the funds from this sale might be reinvested in new property provided negotiations can be worked out.

A contract for storm sewers, part of the city-wide sewer system, was let to R. J. Hastings and L. J. Steers, St. Louis, for $139,415 and for repairs to a 24 inch main outpour sewer to the W. J. Menefee Co., of Sedalia, for $7909. This action was taken after Burns and McDonald, of Kansas City, had gone over all bids and made these recommendations, which had been concurred in by the Citizens committee.

Bonds Are Paid

The last judgment funding bonds, issued in 1934, have been paid off and the bonds, for $3,000, cancelled, and canceled interest coupons for $63.75, were burned.

Dr. L. S. Geiger has requested the rezoning of property on the southeast corner of Broadway and State Fair boulevard from a one-family zone to a business zone. The matter was referred to the zoning board.

Elmer Summers, second ward alderman, presented petitions for several districts on Walnut street from Emmett to Heard avenues and on Jackson street, beginning at Engineer east to Emmett, including Tower. He stated there were two more petitions to be presented at an early date.

Emery Ellsworth called attention to water on East Broadway, from the Underpass to Hancock, which he said was caused by a spring on MKT property. He asked the City Counselor to contact railroad officials and ask if something could be done about it.

The clerk of the Supreme Court said yesterday he had received word that Justice Douglas will sign an order permitting Mrs. D'Aquino's release on $50,000 bail. The clerk mailed the proper documents to Douglas to sign.

Germany's Unemployed
BONN, Germany, Feb. 7—(AP)—West Germany had 1,900,000 unemployed at the end of January, it was officially announced today.

This was an increase of 342,000 over the previous month. Seventeen per cent of the new job seekers were women.

Despite West Germany's expanding industrial production, unemployment has grown steadily since 1948. In December, 1948 there were only 859,000 jobless.

Woman Dead at Age of 110 Years

JONESBORO, Ark., Feb. 7—(AP)—Northeast Arkansas' oldest resident, Mrs. Mary E. (Granny) Tennison, is dead at the age of 110, all because of a shoe lace.

Mrs. Tennison died at her home two miles north of Alton in Jackson county last night. Death was attributed to complications which followed a fall January 18 when she tripped over shoe lace, fracturing her hip.

She was born Jan. 1, 1840, in Lawrence county near where the town of Hoxie now stands—15 miles from where she died.

Among her survivors is a son, Otto May, 85, of Augusta, Ark., who left 15 grandchildren, 60 great-grandchildren, and a dozen great-great-grandchildren.

Fortunately, Murphy chose this time to sing, "God Bless America," and peace was restored.

The old woman died in her sleep at her home in Hoxie.

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Mrs. Truman's 'Plain Dog'

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON.—Harry Truman has frequently said that the two men he would most like to see retired from Congress are the Republican Senators from his home state—Forrest Donnell and James P. Kern of Missouri.

However, the President leaned over backward to be polite to these bitter foes when he and Mrs. Truman lunched with the Missouri congressional delegation. In fact, politics played a minor role at the luncheon, giving way to a discussion of dogs, led by charming Mrs. Bennett Champ Clark, wife of the judge and former Senator from Missouri.

There was a time when a legendary dog played a famous role in the life of Mrs. Clark's late father-in-law, Speaker Champ Clark, whose theme song when he ran for president was: "I don't care if he is a houn', you've gotta quit kicking my dog aroun'."

But Mrs. Clark, a former English actress, probably did not remember that famous convention battle of 1912 in which Woodrow Wilson finally beat out Champ Clark. For she dominated the conversation with a eulogy, not of her hound, but of her smooth-haired fox terrier which she boasted modestly, outshone everything in Washington canine circles and was practically out of this world in pedigrees.

This went on for some time, with Mrs. Truman saying nothing. When Mrs. Clark finally ran out of adjectives about her pooch, the first lady broke in gently:

"We used to have a dog, too."

"How wonderful," enthused the judge's wife. "What kind?"

"Oh, just a plain dog," replied Mrs. T.

Tide of Toys

Every Christmas I hear some folks arguing that Christmas has become too commercialized, that we give presents chiefly to those who we think are going to give us something in return, that we should not merely practice Christ's teachings on his birthday, but every day.

I have heard quite a few people talk this way, but until now I haven't known many people to do much more than talk about it. This year, however, it's been different.

Christmas has been over more than a month now, and at Philadelphia today an event will take place showing that several million people have been following the above advice and are trying to make Christmas come not once a year but in January, February and March too.

For today the U.S. Lines' steamer American Adventure embarks for Rotterdam carrying the first installment of one of the most precious cargoes ever collected in the U.S.A.—the tide of toys. These friendship toys are being donated through the tireless efforts of the American Legion to the children of Europe.

Of course, this column is supposed to report the closed-door meetings of Congress and the backstage maneuverings of diplomats. But no story is more important than the backstage account of how the American Legion collected some 3,000,000 toys in the short space of five weeks, got them sorted, packed for export, and shipped to Philadelphia.

On the surface, this may have seemed easy. But it wasn't. It took days of careful organizing, plus a lot of courage on the part of Legion leaders, to start such a gigantic project—especially at a time when everyone wanted to relax after Christmas.

Soldiers of Tomorrow?

However, the men who have fought our wars in the past realized that there is only one way to win peace for the future—by working at it. For peace is not a ribbed parchment which diplomats sign after a war is over. It is a living, breathing day-to-day document which the people of a nation must work at year after year.

Peace is like a successful marriage. The hardest part begins after the marriage license is signed. And the fact that so many Americans forgot to work at peace and retreated into their shell of isolation during the Harding-Coolidge days after 1918, was one reason why we had to fight again in 1941.

Wars, the American Legionnaires know all too well, come in cycles of about every 20 years. And the children of today can be our friends or the soldiers of tomorrow. That's why the friendship gesture of toys, the first installment of which sails from Philadelphia today, can be so important.

That's also why the distribution of the toys, which will be in the hands of the efficient CARE organization, will have to be distributed with a little publicity and fanfare to make sure that the people of Europe understand the full meaning of this carefully and patiently collected tide of toys from the veterans of America.

"Invasion" of Maryland

Twelve short years ago Democratic Sen. Millard E. Tydings screamed about a "collapse" of the democratic system when President Franklin D. Roosevelt personally invaded Maryland in an unsuccessful effort to purge the Senator.

At that time a lot of people figured that the defeat of the elongated reactionary from Maryland would not be a blow to democracy, but Tydings demagogued his way through the crucial battle and was re-elected again in 1944.

However, Tydings once more is aspiring to election to the Senate in 1950 and, this time, the shoe is on the other foot. This time Tydings wants the President to "invade" Maryland and recently urged Truman to accept an invitation to dedicate a new airport near Baltimore in June.

"You will have a great opportunity to help the boys on the ticket," expanded Tydings, not referring to himself. "By all means, you should accept this invitation to speak in Maryland."

"Now, just wait a minute," broke in Rep. Congressman Glenn Beall. "I'm in the minority here, but I think if the President is to make this airport dedication a political speech, maybe he had better stay out of Maryland."

"Oh, you won't get hurt, and you won't be helped either if the President decides to accept our invitation," declared Tydings.

However, the Senator wasn't happy when Truman broke in: "I may touch on international matters if I go to Maryland to dedicate the airport, but I won't make a political speech."

U.S. "Training" Planes to Foreign Powers

Cought in a cobweb of red tape is a surplus B-17 that three organizations claim, that wasn't supposed to fly, and that somehow disappeared from the Wadesboro, N.C., airport. The incident illustrates the manner in which the Army sells surplus planes for $350 if used for educational purposes. Then sometimes they are resold to foreign powers for as much as $25,000.

This particular B-17 was last reported in the custody of the Babb Company at a Newark, N.J. airport. This company, which sells to foreign governments, won't say where the mysterious plane is now, even though it claims full ownership. Ownership is also claimed, however, by the Civil Air Patrol of Charlotte, N.C., which wants to give the plane back to the Air Force. Meanwhile, the Mark Hurd Mapping Company of Minneapolis, Minn., is waiting with a priority to buy the controversial B-17.

For two days the Air Force posted a guard around the grounded bomber, but quickly retreated under legal fine and now wants nothing more to do with it. An Air Force spokesman suggested it is a matter for the War Assets Administration. But the duties of war assets have been taken over by the General Services Administration which in turn claims that legal responsibility for the B-17 rests with the Federal Security Administration.

A half dozen Senators and Congressmen have also got into the act on behalf of their constituents.

However, here are the facts in the case: After retirement from active duty, the controversial B-17 was sold to the Charlotte, N.C., Civil Air Patrol for a token $350. In order to qualify, the CAP was supposed to be an "educational institution." It also agreed that the B-17 "will not be used for any actual flight purposes" and "will be sold only as scrap and then only after it shall have been rendered completely unfit and useless."

Plane to Dictator

Yet the plane mysteriously left the Wadesboro airport on its own power, and the Danish government is reported trying to buy it—with the idea of flying it.

The Babb Company seems to have bought the plane from a CAP officer, R. A. Lyon, who hadn't read the fine print in the contract. The CAP doesn't recognize the deal, however, because Lyon is no longer a member. Even Lyon is sorry about it and tried to return the money, but the Babb Company wouldn't take it back.

In the meantime, the Mark Hurd Mapping Company of Minneapolis has been trying to buy a surplus B-17 to aid in charting Army maps. The priorities are in order and the money is in the bank—but no B-17s have been available.

Meanwhile, at Newark, N.J., the Babb Company admits it has purchased three B-17s from "educational institutions," sold one of them to Dictator Trujillo of the Dominican Republic. The other two will probably be sold to France and Denmark. Furthermore, the Babb Company has done a big business in single-engine Air Force "training" planes, selling 200 to the Chinese Nationalists, 75 to the Swedes, 75 to the Dutch, 40 to the Swiss, 20 to the Jews and an assortment to other countries.

The State Department has given its approval for all these exports, the Babb Company claims—even though the original contract grounds the B-17 and restricts its use to educational purposes or scrap.

Note—for these B-17s, the Babb Company gets as high as $25,000 depending upon the improvements, though the Army sells them for $350.

They're a Success!

For the first time since the war in the Pacific ended, we have cause to worry that the Japanese may start traveling the road back to their former strength.

By a vote of 11 to 8, the Boston City Council barred 13 visiting members of the Japanese national parliament from observing "democracy in action." In other words, from watching a council session.

Since nearly everything that is banned in Boston becomes a huge success elsewhere, clearly our experts on Far Eastern trends had better be on the alert from here on out.

RENOUNCE, RESTORE, AND RECEIVE

Now that you have taken the third step, take the next: (4) Renounce. At the heart of this new life there is a "No." It is the hardest word psychologically to say—"Yes" is much easier. But you will have to say "No" to some things in order to say "Yes" to the real things. Among the effects of James Russell Lowell were found these lines:

The things that kept him from doing well."

A man promised a pastor that he would not drink again. After the pledge had been taken the man appeared in late evening and said he must be allowed to drink, or he would die. The pastor told him to go home and die, and went on with his work. The next day the man appeared with a new confidence in his face and said, "I died last night." He had, but a new man was alive.

(5) Restore. As you go over your life you will find things which you will have to right. You may have to ask forgiveness for wrongs done to others, for resentments harbored; you may have to make up a quarrel; you may have to restore money. In one of our missions, a young lady hesitated about dropping in the box a letter asking forgiveness for resentments harbored. But the moment the letter hit the bottom of the box a tied-up condition within her broke. She was free. In another mission the hotel management called us up, thanking us for the mission—a woman had come and returned an armful of towels she had taken when she had been a guest at the hotel. Make a clean sweep with no compromises or half-performances.

(6) Receive. Here is the simple act of faith. To receive is an affirmation that God is as honorable as you are. You are given what you have, and you believe He will not do less. He will give what He has. And the best thing He has to give is Himself. He gives that. Keep repeating to yourself: "I take into my innmost being the forgiving love of God." Affirm, affirm, affirm.

O God, I do affirm. I have lived on denials too long. Now I live on the positive affirmation that Thou art love; that I can bank on that love; that that love will not let me down; that I can draw on it for all I need. And now, O God, I am on your hands forever. I am glad to be there. Amen.

Mrs. Quincy A. Morgan and daughter, Miss Lorraine Morgan, 118 West Seventh street, left today for Hollywood, Calif., where on Tuesday, February 14, Miss Morgan will be married to Mr. Stanley Earl Stokes, of Kansas City. The marriage will take place at 4:00 o'clock in the afternoon at the Little Country Church of Hollywood.

The same day before the marriage takes place Miss Morgan and Mr. Stokes will appear on the radio program: "Bride and Groom." A transcription of the program may be heard by Sedalians when the program is broadcast on February 15.

"Expanding Horizons" was the subject of the talk given Monday afternoon before Sorosis by Miss Hazel Palmer, Sedalia attorney, in which she touched briefly on the first half of the century in which women came a long way, and then stressed the part women must play in the next half century to keep the peace.

Miss Palmer said that during the first half century women had experienced a gradual emancipation and while they grew in civic, educational and political stature, they brought others up with them. She pointed out that the Federal Child Labor Amendment came from women and put an end to sweat shops and child labor.

"Today," the speaker said, "we face the days ahead as genuine, full-fledged citizens, as free and as individual as any citizens and with the same responsibilities toward our community and our various sub-divisions of government. So, all the more, we must realize that as women with privileges and full citizenship we do have our corresponding responsibilities and we have a sacred duty to keep the heritage—a free America, Miss Palmer said.

Home the Bulwark

Our great bulwark of freedom still lies in the home," the speaker said, "for there, chiefly upon the mothers' shoulders, rests the opportunity to mold the thinking, to build the character, to whet the ambition and to kindle the hopes of every boy and girl. Spiritual and moral influence within a child's own home is one of the greatest contributions a parent can make to the child and to this nation," Miss Palmer said. She pointed out that women in the home can act as a levelling-off process, can straighten out the radical and impatient thinking upon the part of their young ones, in particular. They can instill the ideology of a free people and a government like ours in the minds of their youth, just the same as Russia instills communism in the minds of her youth and as Nazi Germany instilled nazism in the minds of her youth," the speaker said.

Fanfare Doesn't Count

"It is not always the fanfare that counts," Miss Palmer said, the little things, day after day, add up to great accomplishments. To put time and energy and serious thinking into proper molding of the lives of their children that they could face the trials and tribulations of a world with inner integrity, self-reliance—a faith in God and a hope for a bright and successful future," she said, "could be a woman's greatest contribution to mankind.

"At the crossroads of the century, we find two lines of thought today," Miss Palmer said, "one is futility, the other of undying hope and unprecedeted progress. We can take our choice.

"The choice of futility is the way of least resistance," the speaker said, "It is the easiest way—but it holds no promise. The thought that I can do nothing about the world as it is, I am just one," the speaker said, "is a rather desperate and hopeless attitude.

Refers To Weapons

"But the other line of thought, that of undying hope and unprecedeted progress is before us and the key to the future progress is faith," the speaker said. "Even with Russia's great strength," Miss Palmer said, if people who really fear Russia and hate war would want peace sufficiently enough to pray for peace and have faith that some method would be devised to bring about peace. Russia's mighty armies and air and sea power would be as nothing."

In speaking of the atom bomb and the hydrogen bomb, Miss Palmer brought out the fact that in World War II there was the deadly gas used and scientists experimented and developed more terrifying types of gas. Then eventually all nations saw that it was foolish, and suicidal to attempt to use the gas as a method of warfare, she said, and so the terrifying weapon was a thing of the past. The same thing, she said, could eventually happen to the use of the A-bomb and the H-bomb.

Urge America To Be Strong

Miss Palmer urged that America arm and be strong and ready, but that we pray that we would not need to use their weapons. Faith and works can bring peace, she said, and as others pray for war, America should pray for peace, we should think peace and we should earnestly strive for peace, yet be vigilant.

"Most women in these United States believe that the hand that guides the seasons and the clouds and the stars in the heavens guides the destiny of nations and all power is not in the might of government and of men."

"May the faith of all Americans guide us to our proper destiny," Miss Palmer said. "We can only march steadfastly on, with our eyes toward ever-expanding horizons toward new opportunities, and with hope for a better tomorrow."

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. T. H. Yount.

Telephone Call Just in Time

A telephone call and quick actions of a neighbor attributed much to saving an elderly woman's life, who otherwise may have died from carbon-dioxide.

Mrs. J. E. Hudson, who lives alone at her home, 1406 South Stewart avenue, fell twice on the floor within a half hour, Friday morning. The telephone rang, and she was able to reach the telephone and let her neighbor, Mrs. George Stober, know of her condition.

Mrs. George Stober arrived in the home and summoned a doctor, who said Mrs. Hudson suffered from carbon-dioxide.

The cause of the carbon-dioxide was attributed to pipes from a circulator heater being stopped up and unable to get air.

Twelve overtime parkers, two cases of careless and reckless driving while drinking, another for careless driving, and five charged with being drunk, whose names were called by the court.

The twelve overtime parkers all failed to make appearance in court and their cash bonds of one-dollar each were ordered forfeited.

Billy Jim Scrivner, arrested by State Trooper Pete Stohr for careless driving on East Broadway, pleaded guilty, was fined $25 by Judge Brown.

Fined Fifty Dollars

Bert White, 1601 East Eleventh street, charged with careless and reckless driving while drinking, pleaded guilty and was fined $50. Wise, 80, 1614 South Osage avenue, a pedestrian was severely injured.

Tommy Miller, 1321 South Ohio avenue, charged with driving carelessly and recklessly while drinking, pleaded not guilty. He denied to the court he was the driver of a Jeep which figured in an accident in the 1300 block on South Grand avenue, Sunday night.

The case was set over for Tuesday morning, February 14, for trial. Miller was released on a $500 signed bond. He was then taken to the court house to answer to charges of writing a bad check for $500.

Five men, charged with being drunk, appeared in court and pleaded guilty to the charges against them. They were fined $10 each, three paying their fines and two others were committed to the city jail.

Vandals Visit Six Places

Four public schools were visited by vandals sometime Monday night or early this morning, two were entered and ransacked, two others had windows broken out, but as far as the officers could learn were not entered. Attempts to break into two business houses were also made, but entrance was not gained.

Windows on the east side and south side of the Grapette Bottling Co., 500 West Second street were broken. This report was received by the police shortly after 8 o'clock Monday night.

Probably Frightened Away

Washington and Jefferson schools were visited and windows broken, but from appearances entrance to the two buildings was not gained. The would be thieves probably being frightened away by dogs.

The intruders apparently failed to obtain anything of value at Whittier school.

Command Taken From Captain

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 7—(P)—

Captain William D. Brown, a defendant in a naval court of inquiry probing the recent grounding of the battleship Missouri, today was relieved of his command of this nation's single active battleship.

Atlantic fleet headquarters announced "for the time being and at least until legal proceedings are completed," Captain H. P. Smith, former commanding officer of the Missouri, will assume command.

If we can't balance our national budget with the national income at the highest level in history, when will we?" the speaker asked.

Must Not Lose Leadership

He expressed, "I hope and pray that history will never repeat that America after leading the world boldly, wisely, courageously, through two world wars and the most extensive social revolution in the shortest period of time in history, founded on the rocks of fiscal irresponsibility."

"Whether we have wanted it or not, we have attained the leadership of the world, or at least of the democratic world. If democracy is to survive in the world, we must perform a major part in its survival. We cannot hope to aid other nations in restoring or maintaining it, if we ourselves refuse to accept its mandates and hold aloft its torch," the speaker said.

"In the face of national, social and economic problems, greater than ever before plagued this nation, and with all these conditions and our many grave obligations as citizens and as a nation, in November 1948, more than 40,000,000 citizens were so little interested in the fate of this nation that they stayed away from the polls and did not take the five to fifteen minutes necessary to go and vote. Now, many of the same people are meeting and condemning the way the government is run," Mr. Blair said.

Must Arouse People

He declared the people must be aroused and induced to participate fully in directing government, for despite the progress made in the last half century, there is much to be done—many dark and ominous difficulties to be overcome."

"There is the overshadowing need to find enduring foundations for world peace. There is the necessity of maintaining our economy at high levels of production and employment in order that the paralyzing threat of economic stagnation may be frustrated. There is the age-old problem of dividing the fruits of capital and labor fairly and equitably and providing reasonable security for those who must live by their own labor, of making available to all the benefits of our increasing knowledge. And we must break down the ancient barriers which have been falsely founded upon distinction of race, color and religion."

Don't Trifle With Ideals

In conclusion, he said, "Let us resolve that our country shall not swerve from the path it has followed, that we will not trifle with the ideals that have brought us to our present position, that we shall continue to find our leaders among men whose wisdom and character are beyond question, that the dignity of individual men—all men—is the fundamental basis of any good society."

Frank V. Mehl, president of the club, presided. Preceding the meal dinner, the Rev. Arthur Freeberg announced the invocation. Charles Hanna led the audience in the singing of several songs. The program chairman were Judge Dimmitt Hoffman and Dr. Lawrence Drennon.

Immediately after dinner, a hat was passed around to collect money to purchase a miniature Statue of Liberty to be placed on the court house lawn. This movement is in accordance with Boy Scout Week. The statue will cost over $300 and the hat will be passed around at all the civic clubs this week in an endeavor to raise most of the money.

Admitted for surgery: Ernest Cummins, 1301½ South Ohio avenue.

Admitted for medical treatment: Miss Barbara Thomas, Hughesville, and Eugene Fiedler, 1611 South Prospect avenue.

Dismissed: F. L. Shuckles, 327 East Twenty-seventh street.

A full rehearsal will also be held Thursday night at Smith-Cotton high school auditorium, preceded by 7:00 o'clock by a rehearsal of the skit to be presented March 16, for the Smith-Cotton Parent Teacher association.

The skit to be presented for the PTA will be: "If Men Played Cards as Women Do," a one-act play by George Coffman will be given with Theodore Gardner, Scott Webber, Henry Evans, Jack Meyer and Otis W. Wiley acting the clever satire on women's bridge clubs. The skit is directed by Mrs. Otis Wiley and Mrs. William Ward.

Cost of Operations

"In 1932 our federal government spent 4½ billion dollars. For the fiscal year of 1950 it is estimated that our federal government will spend ten times that amount—45 billion dollars. He gave the audience an idea of how much money that was by presenting the following facts:

1. If everyone in the U. S. cashed in all his life-insurance policies, the total would amount to 44 billion dollars. This would not be enough money to run the government for one year.

2. If every urban home owner in this country sold his home, the total would amount to 30 billion dollars. That's just enough to run the government for eight months.

3. If every farmer in this country sold his farm, farm equipment and livestock, the total would amount to 25 million dollars. The government could not run for seven months on that amount of money.

"If we can't balance our national budget with the national income at the highest level in history, when will we?" the speaker asked.

Ask Bergman Films Ban

Appeal Made To Men Who Set The Movies Morals

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 7—(P)—The men who set the movies morals were asked Monday to ban Ingrid Bergman's pictures. There was just a hint, too, her husband's divorce suit may be filed this week.

The office of Eric Johnston, head of the Motion Picture Association, said "no comment" to a church's requests for a ban on Bergman films.

And attorneys for her husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom, were only a little more talkative about the divorce.

Both legal camps have been working for weeks to draw up a property settlement. Today attorney Howard F. Shepherd Jr., would not confirm a report that Lindstrom's suit will be filed here this week, but said cautiously: "I'm not denying it."

Dr. Lindstrom, through a spokesman, has said he will not file suit until agreement is reached with the actress on community property and custody of their 11-year-old daughter, Pia.

In the meantime, varied reactions were reported on the international Lindstrom-Bergman-Rossellini triangle. The actress gave birth to a baby boy last Thursday in Italy. She and film director Roberto Rossellini, both have been quoted as saying that Rossellini is the father.

In Los Angeles, at a Sunday service, the membership of Trinity Methodist church adopted a resolution asking that any movie in which Miss Bergman appears be banned.

The resolution stated that "this is no time to overlook such open defiance of our moral standards as appears in this widely publicized scandal." The church members asked movie boss Johnston, to "use his mighty influence to prevent the showing of the moving pictures in which Ingrid Bergman appears as an actress."

Plan "Stromboli" Release

R-K-O studio is preparing to release next week the film which Miss Bergman and Rossellini made on the volcanic isle of Stromboli. The title: "Stromboli."

To reactions of church groups and others concerning the actress and Rossellini a studio spokesman said: "No comment."

In nearby Glendale the board of censors announced it would not bar the Bergman film. The board secretary, Mrs. Derrick Paine, said it is not the province of censors to judge the "moral turpitude of actors and actresses."

In Sioux City, Ia., a Catholic bishop rapped the actress and Rossellini and called on Sioux City Catholics to pass up "Stromboli." Bishop Joseph Muller called the actions of Rossellini and Miss Bergman "conjugal infidelity."

Syndicate Theaters, Inc., an Indiana chain of six theaters, advertised that it will not show "Stromboli" in its houses, saying it is time movie exhibitors "refuse to play pictures starring persons that bring discredit" to the business.

The Memphis-Shelby county board of censors announced the banning of "Stromboli" in Memphis.

Delay Hearing Of Frank Dalton

UNION, Mo., Feb. 7—(P)—A hearing on a petition by J. Frank Dalton to change his name to Jesse James was continued on Monday until March 10.

The delay was caused when Jesse E. James, son of the one-time Missouri outlaw, and Stella F. James, both of Los Angeles, filed a petition to intervene in the case.

The James' contend that Dalton is not Jesse James and shouldn't have his name. Dalton, in his petition filed last month, said he wished to reassure the name with which he was born.

He said he had gone under the name Dalton after he supposedly was shot to death in St. Joseph, Mo., in the 1880's. It's Dalton's contention that Jesse (Dalton) wasn't shot, it was somebody else.

The James' petition was filed in Franklin county circuit court by Edgar M. Eagan, Jefferson City, Mo., attorney.

Dalton appeared in court to-day.

Mackenzie's Column

By Dewitt Mackenzie
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
Rarely does a government official resort to such sensational talk to a foreign power as was directed to Russia and Marshal Stalin the other night by Secretary of Defense Johnson during a speech in Washington.

"In all we are doing," declared the secretary, "we are seeking peace. There is only one nation in the whole world that would start a war. We seek to have a military establishment sufficient to deter aggression and lick hell out of her if she doesn't stay deterred."

Mr. Johnson said America's defense system is in better shape and stronger than at any time since 1945. Our defenses are getting stronger daily and soon will reach a point where they will be ready for anything in an hour's time.

"Joe Stalin will know," declared the secretary, "that if he starts something at four a.m. the fighting power of the United States will be on the job at five a.m."

On the Line
That certainly is laying it on the line. Of course statesmen sometimes under stress of emotion make statements stronger than were intended. However, the secretary was speaking from pencilled notes and there is no indication that he wasn't talking with studied deliberation.

Such language is reserved for emergencies, and this certainly is a critical moment in the conflict of the isms, as the great Red offensive continues its victorious sweep across Southeast Asia. It's my guess (and it is a guess) that Secretary Johnson had two objects in view: One was to let the American public know that America is prepared for contingencies and isn't depending on any Maginot line of defense. The other was to advise Moscow that we are prepared and mean business.

Not at Peace
In considering the secretary's declaration we mustn't forget that we are not at peace. We are at war—a cold war, to be sure, but never-the-less a conflict which could lead to a shooting-war. So while his language would have been beyond the bounds of diplomacy if employed in peace, it assumes a different aspect as things are.

The history of the late war has taught us that it's a mistake to encourage the idea that a nation won't fight in self-defense. It's a mistake for a government to lead its public into that belief, and it's a much greater mistake to let the outside world get any such notion.

Of course it's to late now to argue whether Hitler would have started the world war if he hadn't been encouraged by British Prime Minister Chamberlain's efforts at appeasement. Many observers feel that the Nazi dictator wouldn't have launched his aggression if a mailed fist had been stuck under his nose.

Hitler Became Aggressive
However, having attended the fateful conferences of Berchtesgaden, Godesberg and Munich, I know that Hitler became more aggressive with each successive peace overture by Chamberlain. The Fuehrer saw that he had the other fellows worried, and took advantage of the situation.

Ordered To Die In Gas Chamber

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7—(P)—Fred Stroble was ordered to die in the state's gas chamber for the brutal sex-slaying of six-year-old Linda Joyce Glucoff.

Superior Judge Charles W. Fricke pronounced the sentence, abruptly ending the 68-year-old ex-baker's fight for a new sanity trial.

The execution date cannot be set until after sentence reviewed by the state supreme court.

Stroble was convicted by a jury of murder in the first degree, with no recommendation for leniency. This made the death sentence mandatory. Judge Fricke subsequently found him sane. Stroble had pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity.

Missouri Bows To Nebraska In Big Seven

Cornhuskers And K State Tied For First in Loop

By Skipper Patrick

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 7—(P)—The Big Seven conference basketball pennant chase was a dead heat between Kansas State and Nebraska today, but three other members had strong holds as title contenders.

The Colorado Buffaloes made it possible last night for Nebraska to jump into a tie with Kansas State for the lead by upsetting the University of Kansas Jayhawks, 50-48, in overtime at Boulder, Colo.

And Nebraska helped its own cause by taking the Missouri Tigers, 50-41, at Lincoln, Nebr. The victory gave Nebraska a 4-1 record in the league, same as Kansas State and charged Missouri with its fifth Big Seven loss.

Kansas was dunked into fourth place at 3-2, half a game behind Colorado, which has won four and lost two.

Split Second Victory

Colorado beat Kansas on a field goal by Gunard Wayne Tucker that was clocked one second before the final gun in the overtime. The triumph was the second pulled out of the fire in as many nights by Colorado. On Saturday, Colorado defeated Missouri, 41 to 39, in the last three seconds on Kendall Hill's fielder.

While Colorado won, the Buffaloes failed to stop sophomore Clyde Lovelette who bucketed 30 points for Kansas to bring his scoring total for 16 games to 356 points.

The score was tied 48-all at the end of regulation play and Hills got the goal that knotted it. Both teams played cautiously in the extra five minutes and only Colorado was able to score.

Tigers Battle Foes

Missouri made a battle of it with Nebraska, trailing by only three points at the half, 24-21, but couldn't keep pace with the Cornhuskers after the intermission. The rough game saw 31 fouls charged against Missouri, 19 against the Huskers.

Oklahoma whipped Iowa State in a third Big Seven game, 63-57, dealing the Iowans their first home loss of the season. Oklahoma led 34-32 at the half.

The leadership in the standings may go into single hands again Saturday. Kansas State plays Missouri at Columbia, while Nebraska must deal with Kansas at Lawrence, Kas.

Ohio State Holds On To Western League Title

Elsewhere in the nation Ohio State pulled far ahead in the race for the Western Conference basketball title and a bid to the NCAA tournament with a one-point 56-55 victory over Indiana last night.

Ohio State now has an 8-1 conference mark with Illinois in second at 4-2.

Dick Schnitter led the Ohio surge from 10 points behind. The leading conference scorer tallied 27 points. The Buckeyes rank fourth in the Associated Press poll.

Big Upset
Washington of St. Louis pulled the night's biggest upset, defeating Louisville (20-6) in overtime, 61-57. Just last Saturday the Kentuckians handed Duquesne its first loss.

Vanderbilt replaced Auburn as Southeastern Conference leader, topping the Tigers, 63-51. Vandy has an 8-2 league mark. Idle Kentucky (6-2) pulled into the SEC second spot and Auburn dropped to third with 8 and 3.

Bradley, ranked second in the AP poll, kept even with St. Louis in the Missouri Valley race. The Braves trimmed stubborn Wichita, 61-49. St. Louis swamped Tulsa 70-48.

In the Skline Six, Wyoming moved a half game ahead of Brigham Young. Wyoming made its league record 9-2 in defeating Utah, 42-39.

Kansas City Blues Sign Up Donald Lutkka

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 7—(P)—The Kansas City Blues have signed James Donald (Lucky) Lutkka, 19-year-old schoolboy shortstop of Buffalo, N.Y.

Parke Carroll, general manager of the American Association baseball club, said today Dutch Zwilling, New York Yankee scout, signed Lutkka in competition with seven major league clubs.

Lutkka is a left handed batter, 5 feet 11 inches tall and weighs 170 pounds. He was graduated from Buffalo Technical high school last month and had a four-year city league batting average of .450.

Coach Attempts to Talk Paul Christman Out of Retiring

CHICAGO, Feb. 7—(P)—Curly Lambeau, new head coach, and vice president of the Chicago Cardinals, is scheduled to meet today with quarterback Paul Christman in an attempt to talk him out of retiring.

The 31-year-old passer announced he was through after the Cardinals lost to the Bears in the 1949 season final.

Fighter Will Try to Better Father's Bout

Harold Johnson Meets Joe Walcott Wednesday Night

By Orlo Robertson

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 7—(P)—Harold Johnson will try tomorrow night to accomplish what his father failed to do 14 years ago — whip Jersey Joe Walcott.

Win, lose or draw for the 22-year-old Johnson in the ten-round bout at the Arena, it'll be something new in boxing.

Old timers couldn't recall any time where a fighter faced the same opponent his father previously had battled.

It was in June, 1936, in a Philadelphia ball park that Walcott met Harold's pappy — Phil Johnson.

Walcott was 22, the elder Johnson 30. Jersey Joe was campaigning regularly and successfully.

Pop Fell in 3rd Round

Jersey Joe knocked out Pop Johnson in the third round. The veteran Camden heavyweight recalled "I either broke his nose or gave him so bad a beating they had to stop the fight."

The elder Johnson, according to Walcott, was a "rough man in the ring, from what I can remember and weighed more than 200 pounds."

Bill Johnson now is living in Newark. His last fight was on April 26, 1943 when he was beaten by Elmer Ray. For several years he was a sparring partner for Tony Galento.

Harold has invited his father down to see tomorrow night's fight but he is not sure he can make it.

No Personal Grudge

Asked if he would be making a personal issue of the fight to try and "avenge his father's defeat, Harold said such a thing never had occurred to him.

It'll be the most important fight in Johnson's brief career. He has been in 30 fights, losing only to Archie Moore. One of his most important recent victories was a decision over veteran Jimmy Bivins.

Walcott is the favorite on the basis of his experience. At around 195 pounds he'll outweigh his opponent by at least fifteen pounds.

Two New Records on Books for Missouri Trackmen

COLUMBIA, Mo., Feb. 7—(P)—University of Missouri trackmen had two new records on the books after capturing their first indoor dual meet of the season against Iowa State.

The Tigers won their opening engagement Saturday night 85 1/2 to 15 1/2 as Jean Madden ran to a new record in the 880 and the mile relay team set another mark.

Madden's 1:59 broke the meet record of 1:59.1. The relay team ran the mile in 3:29.7, compared with the old mark of 3:31.6.

Don't Let Common Three-Ten Split Bluff You Out of Spare

By Val Mikiel
Bowlerette-of-the-Year

In my final lesson, I discuss the fairly-common 3-10 split.

My reason for doing this is that this set-up often bluffs the bowler out of a spare.

Seeking to convert it, most kegels fail into error in their delivery.

Allow six to eight inches from the left hand side, facing your objective.

Aim for the inside reflection of the 3, taking a straight-line approach, swinging straight back, then straight forward to the objective across the alley.

Most persons swing straight backward, but then have a tendency to throw the arm out to the right on delivery. This of course, is a fatal error, because the ball will head almost directly for the right gutter.

If you will remember to keep your right elbow close in by your side, and deliver the ball naturally, you will have the feeling that the ball is traveling down the center of the alley across to the spare.

With the necessary groundwork of fundamentals and constant practice, almost anyone can be an expert bowler.

How good you become is almost entirely up to yourself.

SPARE TIME — Val Mikiel tells you to aim for the inside reflection of the three-pin.

Sharp Rebukes Given Germans

STUTTGART, Germany, Feb. 7—(P)—American authorities cracked down on the Germans Monday with sharp rebukes and stern warnings.

High Commissioner John J. McCloy fired both barrels in a major policy speech here, three days after returning from official conferences in Washington.

He told the Germans their politicians were harming Germany with anti-American criticisms, that they had better quit agitating on foreign issues and get down to business on their serious internal problems, that there will be no German army or air force, that too many former Nazis are creeping back into important places and that the people are too apathetic toward their political duties.

"We Americans are here exclusively to feed the German people," he declared. "Our main purpose is to help Germany achieve political recovery."

"That is my answer to those who occasionally say that we have no right to mix in the political problems confronting this country."

It was the most critical speech be vigilant in critical exploration of administration foreign policy."

Jobless Reach To 4,480,000

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7—(P)—The nation's jobless increased to $4,480,000 in January—highest since the war.

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer, announcing the figure Monday, blamed the rise in unemployment on bad weather, the holidays and normal "mid-winter lull in trade and outdoor work."

"It is noteworthy," he said, "that industrial employment did not appear to be materially affected. A year ago, industrial layoffs were an important factor in the rise of unemployment."

Sawyer said a "sizeable increase" in unemployment could be expected in December and January because of seasonal developments.

In setting a new post-war mark, the figures showed unemployment jumped 991,000 during the last month.

Simultaneously, the number with jobs dropped by 1,609,000 to a total of 56,947,000. Officials explained that the full force of the decline in job-holders did not show up in unemployment figures because many of those who lost jobs dropped out of the labor market—at least temporarily.

Sawyer said in a statement: "Bad weather in many parts of the country accounted for the unemployment of large numbers of construction and farm workers."

Also, many of the holiday workers who lost their Christmas jobs were looking for other work in January."
